Reliability in uncertain times: Sennheiser solutions ensure high-quality hybrid learning at Aix-Marseille Université

Challenge

The outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic forced Aix-Marseille Université (AMU) to adapt and quickly set up remote teaching solutions for all students who could no longer attend classes on-site.

Solution

AMU equipped about 300 rooms with new, IT-focused AV equipment, plus about ten amphitheatres that are equipped for the most part with video conferencing systems for recording. With the trend of hybrid learning, numerous microphones were installed and connected to cameras to capture the sound.
