Oxford Upgrades Audio System for Improved Performance and Simplicity with Sennheiser SpeechLine

“The overall audio quality was a massive leap forward and the speakers were custom painted to match the surrounding.”

Paul Blaxill, Director of IT, All Souls College

Challenge

The college wanted to use a stone architecture space, with a high apex room that causes sound to dissipate, impacting audibility. The space would also have no in-person engineer for events.

Solution

Upgrade the room’s audio system and install Sennheiser SpeechLine Digital Wireless system into the space, with its easy-to-use nature making it easy to operate for non-technical personnel.
